About this book

This book has some hard words.

The hard words are bold.

We write what the hard words mean.

You can ask for help to read this book.

Who are we?

This book is from NDRP.

NDRP means National Disability Research Partnership.

We do research about disability.

Research is when you

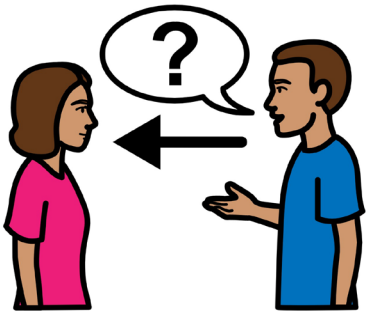

- look for information

- learn more about something.

This book is a report about our work.

We want to know if we do a good job

We asked ACIL Allen to help us.

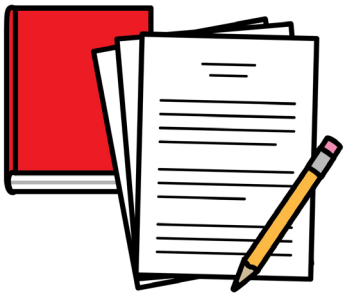

ACIL ALLEN

ACIL Allen help organisations.

They give advice about

- money

- plans

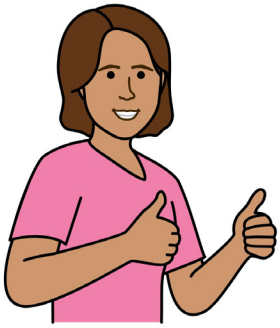

- problems.

We did an evaluation

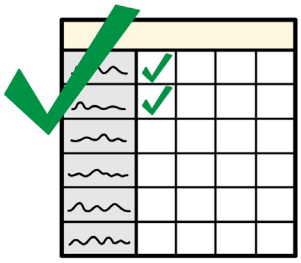

Evaluation means to find out what we

- do well

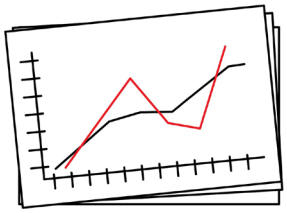

- can do better.

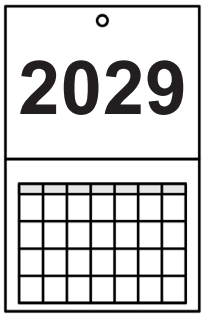

We checked

- our work

- what happened because of our work.

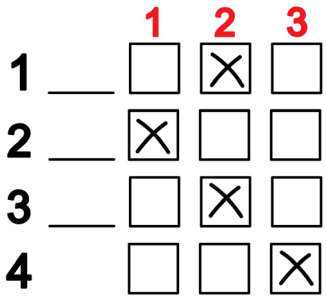

We will do another evaluation in

2 or 3 years.

We asked people about what we did for the last 2 years

We did a survey.

A survey is when you answer questions.

We had focus groups.

Focus groups are when people

- have a meeting

- answer questions

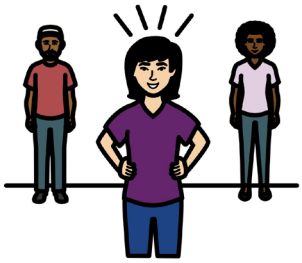

- share ideas.

What did people tell us?

People said we help research be inclusive.

Inclusive means for everyone.

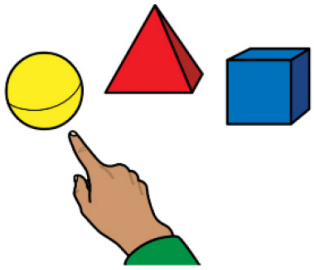

We help people with disability be leaders.

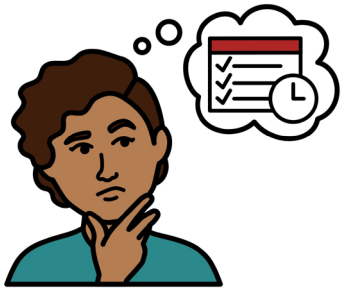

We help people with disability

- choose what to research

- plan the research

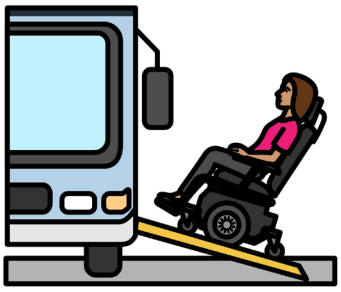

- change the research.

We help people do good research

We want research to be

- helpful

- accessible.

Accessible means everyone can

- get in to places

- understand information

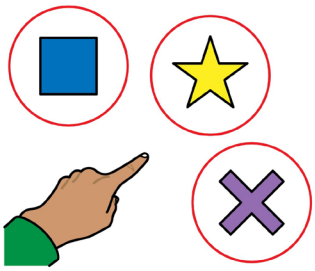

- use information.

We use co design

Co design is when people

- work together

- make decisions together.

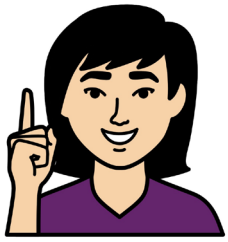

We help people with disability say what they

- think

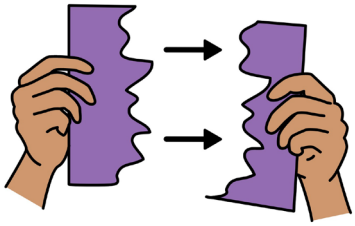

- need.

We help people learn about disability

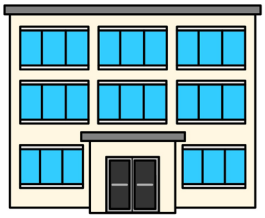

Our research helps people

- understand disability

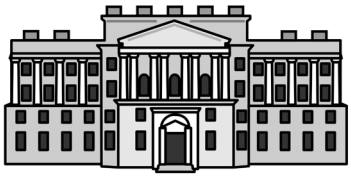

- fix problems.

We work with

- organisations

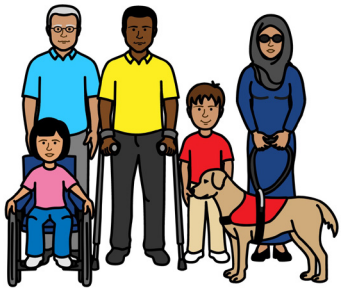

- government.

People trust us

Since we started there is more research

- about disability

- by people with disability.

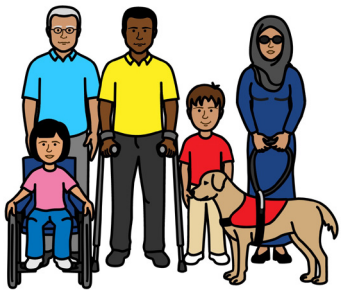

We want more people to know

- who we are

- what we do.

How can we do a better job?

We can do more work with people

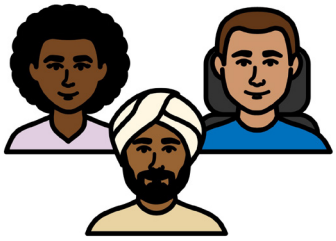

- with intellectual disability

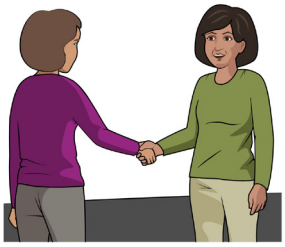

- who do not live in the city

- who speak other languages

- who have different backgrounds.

We can have more partnerships

Partnerships means working together.

We can work with organisations who do

- aged care

- health

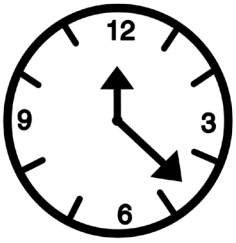

- education.

What does research about disability need?

Good research about disability needs more

- time

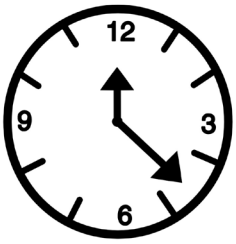

- money.

Good research about disability needs enough time for co design.

Co design is better when people trust each other.

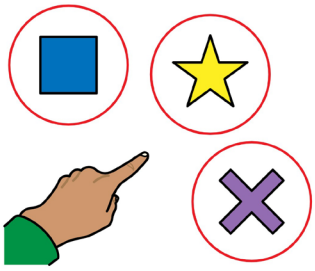

People trust each other when you

- take your time

- work together

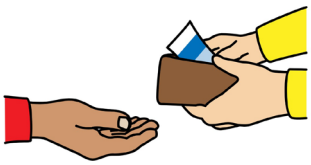

- decide together.

We can help more good research with more money

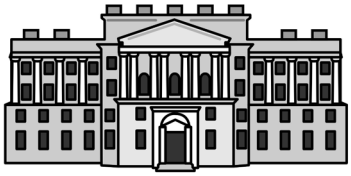

We will tell people how much it costs to

- do co design

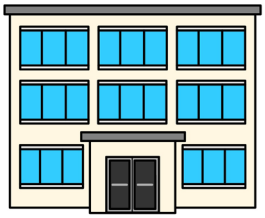

- pay for research about disability.

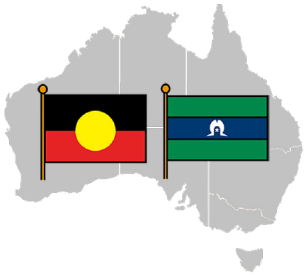

We need more money from

- government.

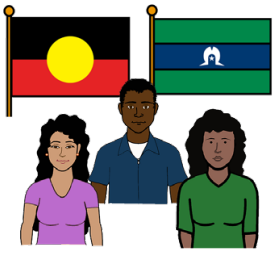

- other organisations.

We made this book on First Nations land

First Nations means

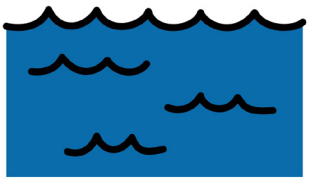

- Aboriginal
- Torres Strait Islander.

We are glad to share

- land

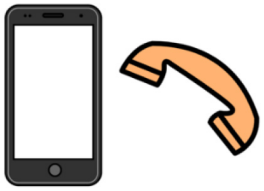

- water

- community.
